DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of group I, claims 1—15 in the reply filed on July 10, 2009 is acknowledged.

Claims 1 – 21 are pending; claims 16 – 21 are withdrawn as being drawn to non-elected subject matter; claims 1 – 15 have been considered on the merits.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1 – 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 and its dependents are drawn to a method for growing connective tissue, however are rendered vague and indefinite for reciting “at least temporarily simultaneously” as it is unclear what is occurring in the method steps.

Art Unit: 1651

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

6. Claim 1 – 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Conrad et al. (US 6846675).

Conrad teaches methods for growing connective tissues substitutes that are populated with fibroblasts, the methods comprising providing connective tissue with a first and second side, placing in containers and growing the cells into a connective tissue (col.22-26). Although the references do not teach all of the limitations regarding where the sources of epithelial layers, such limitations are regarded as product by process type limitations. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the claimed product is the same or obvious from a product in the prior art (i.e. the product disclosed in the cited reference), the claim is unpatentable even though the reference product was made by a different process. When the prior art discloses a product which reasonably appears to be identical with or slightly different than the claimed product-by-process, rejections under 35 U.S.C 102 and/or 35 U.S.C 103 are proper. (MPEP 2113).

Therefore the claims are rejected.
